Imagine the following:

- 8 friends are on holiday
- They share a cabin together
- The cabin has eight beds with one pillow and one blanket each

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Imagine the following cont.:

- One of the friends declares that he cannot possibly sleep without three pillows
  - 1 for the head
  - 1 between his legs
  - 1 in his arms
- He asks two of the others to give him their pillows

What moral aspects can one find?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Justice

- How should the pillows be distributed?
  - One each!
  - "To everyone according to needs from everyone according to capacity"

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Consequences

- What will make the whole group to sleep the most?
- Is it immoral to give away the pillow?

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

Forcing a choice

- Is it immoral to ask?
- Should someone else step in and offer their pillow?
