This week we have integrated the programs so they now work together in a satisfactory way. They main thing now will be to work on the report. Except for small modifications and tests the other parts are completed.

We still have a big work to put into the report since it is still in the state it was last week. But now we will divide it into smaller areas and get it done.