This week we have focused on the report. Aside from the report we also have stabilized the robot further, we now think it will be able to follow the line properly but we have not been able to verify this because of computer trouble.